Stanley Gives Ambulance Plan to C.C.

Complaints that Washington Township is not being supplied with adequate ambulance service by the county were answered by Supervisor Chester E. Stanley at the regular luncheon meeting of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce Wednesday. He explained the facilities as they now exist and as they are planned for the next year.

Misunderstanding was the basis of a protest which was voiced first by the Centerville group and concurred in by the Irvington Chamber. The supervisor explained that there has been a working agreement between the Chapel of the Palms in Centerville and Alameda County.

SERVICE FROM HAYWARD

For some time the ambulance formerly operated from Centerville has been out of commission, and Washington Township has had to be served with ambulances from Hayward.

The delay in ambulance service which followed the recent fatal knifing on the Centerville-Irvington highway was unfortunate, Supervisor Stanley said, and, at his request, is being investigated by the county sheriff's office.

The supervisor stated that plans for future ambulance service for the rural areas of the county include a subsidized service from Livermore, Centerville, and Hayward.

FOR EMERGENCY CALL

If the ambulance in any of these areas is in service at the time of an emergency call, equipment from one of the other communities will be available.

He explained the financial arrangements which the county proposed for ambulance service, which amount to a flat fee of $200 per month in each agreement, with an additional payment of 10 cents per mile for roadside emergencies, and also payment for the carrying of indigent county cases at a rate of $1 per mile.

This financial set-up, he said, is more liberal than that paid in other counties, and should guarantee excellent service.

CHAMBER SUPPORTS HOSPITAL PROGRAM

The Centerville Chamber this week pledged support to the program of establishing a hospital in Washington Township when it voted to write the directors of the Washington Township Hospital District favoring the request for a grant of federal and state funds toward construction.

STEVENS STREET PROJECT UNSETTLED

After being advised Wednesday by Supervisor Chester E. Stanley that the project of extending Stevens Street through to Central Avenue has met with no support by the Alameda County Planning Commission, the Centerville Chamber of Commerce decided Wednesday to resubmit the proposal, along with a more detailed explanation of the necessity of the extension.

He is survived by his widow, and by a son, Clarence I. Glassbrook of Swedesboro, New Jersey. He was the brother of Ruth Glassbrook of Ashburnham, Mass., and the grandfather of Barbara Jean Glassbrook of Swedesboro.

He was affiliated with several organizations, including the Masons, the Niles Rotary Club, the Niles Chamber of Commerce, the Hayward Area Chamber of Comber of Commerce, and the Tennyson Improvement Club.

Funeral rites were held Tuesday at Sorensen Brothers in Hayward, with inurnment at the California Columbarium in Oakland.

Pall-bearers at the funeral were Robert Blacow, J. A. McDonald, C. W. Kraft, E. Dixon Bristow, Dr. T. C. Wilson and Virgil Young.

SERVICES HELD FOR MRS. MACIEL

Services were held April 19 in Centerville for Mrs. Rose D. Maciel, 56, at the Chapel of the Palms and the Church of the Holy Ghost.

Mrs. Maciel, a native of Centerville, was the wife of Antone O. Maciel. She was the mother of Sister M. Concepta, O. P., of Flintridge Sacred Heart Academy, Pasadena, and of two sons, Emmanuel P. of Oakland and Anthony I. of Walnut Creek. A sister, Mrs. Mary Bodell, lives in Oakland.

Mrs. Maciel was a member of the Third Order of St. Dominick, St. Albert Chapter.

Following services at the Chapel of the Palms at 9 a.m., a solemn requiem mass was held at 9:30 in the Church of the Holy Ghost, Centerville. Interment was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, Hayward.

RITES TOMORROW AT MASONIC HOME

The Masonic Home, which was established in 1896, as the Masonic Widows and Orphans Home, today houses 301 persons—180 women and 121 men. Since 1916, children have been housed at the home built in Covina for children. The present buildings at Decoto were constructed in 1920-30. A new home for nurses is now going up.

James R. Eubanks is superintendent at the home, in charge of 80 employees.

Zoning Plan For Irvington Given Okay

Labelled by Ronald Campbell, planning consultant of Alameda County, as an ideal plan for the growth of Irvington into a larger, more prosperous planned community, a zoning map for the Irvington area was accepted at a public meeting Tuesday and will go to the Alameda County Planning Commission for official hearings leading to adoption.

Irvington thus becomes the third Washington Township community to avail itself of the protective planning permitted under the county zoning ordinance. Newark and Decoto are the only towns thus far zoned.

COMMITTEE ENDORSED

Only slight objections were heard at Tuesday's meeting, held at the Irvington Elementary School. The objectors met with no majority support and the plan was accepted as had been proposed by a town committee which had made a thorough study of Irvington's zoning needs.

According to Campbell and Engineer John J. Thomas, secretary of the Alameda County Planning Commission, there is ample provision in the proposed zoning map of the town for the expansion of etail business to accommodate several thousand more residents, as well as for light and heavy industry.

ROOM FOR EXPANSION

A rather weak effort to place commercial zones in highway areas outside of the center of town was not accepted by the meeting. Campbell explained that, if future subdivisions indicate need for shopping areas, these can be established easily by future rezoning.

He complimented the residents of Irvington on their public spirit and foresight in affording their community the protections of zoning against unsound expansion.

ACCIDENT TAKES MOTHER OF THREE

By EVA O'MALIA

Mrs. Gladys Pauline Shippee, 33, Box 456, Milpitas, was killed at about 9 o'clock Sunday night when struck by a car while attempting to cross the Oakland Highway near the Alameda-Santa Clara County line north of Milpitas. Edward A. Schuman, 20, Oakland, driver of the car, was not held.

She was the wife of James B. Shippee and mother of Lawrence, Nancy Carroll and James Harvey Shippee. Mrs. Shippee's mother, five sisters and two brothers also survive, all residing in Northeastern United States. The remains are being shipped to Battlesboro, Vermont, for burial.

The three Shippee children are students at the Warm Springs Elementary School.

TOUR OF SEEDING WORK SCHEDULED

Lee C. Benson, farm advisor, and his assistant, Walter H. Johnson, have arranged a tour of ranches for Alameda County farmers to show the results of fertilization and seeding of introduced species of grasses and legumes.

The tour will be held Tuesday, April 26, at the following times and places:

9:00 a.m.—H. C. Kolb, Old Dublin Road, second house west of Route 50, Dublin. (Fertilization of dry land pasture using eleven different elements.)

9:40 a.m.—Ed Orloff, Black Avenue, first house west of Santa Rita Avenue, Pleasanton. (Thirty varieties in irrigated pasture.)

10:10 a.m.—Friesman Bros. Dairy on south side of Route 50, 2½ miles east of Santa Rita Prison Farm. (Thirty varieties in irrigated pasture.)

10:40 a.m.—Chester Stanley, east side Beck Road, first house north of Dagnino Road, Livermore. (Fertilization of volunteer dry land pasture.)

11:15 a.m.—Armond and Chas. Bankhead, gate on Vasco Road at Alameda-Contra Costa County line. (Alfalfa, sub-clover, burnet, and harding grass planted on dry land range.)

FOUR ESCAPE FIRE NEAR CENTERVILLE

Left homeless by a fire that destroyed the converted fruit shed they had been using for a home near Centerville, J. W. Bryant, his wife, and their two children, Maudine, 12, and Wendel, 15, were attempting this week to re-establish themselves in another shed and continue their orchard work.

The Bryants were burned out of their home Monday morning at the old Oliver ranch, southeast of the town. Flames from a wood fire, kindled when the family's butane supply ran short, were apparently responsible for the blaze that caught on the roof of the building and rapidly spread.

When the family's efforts to smother the blaze failed, Bryant drove to Centerville for help from the fire department. Nothing in the house could be saved by the time Chief Fred Rogers and his equipment raced to the scene, but the firemen were able to prevent the fire from spreading to other buildings.

The fire chief estimated that the loss of the shed and the family's entire personal belongings would amount to about $1500. The Red Cross and the Child Welfare Club offered assistance to the Bryants.

SHIFT TO IRRIGATED FARMING GOING ON

Many Alameda County farmers are considering irrigated pastures in adjusting their crop schedules to postwar conditions, Walter Johnson, assistant farm advisor, reported this week.

Some crops are now in overproduction and more may be in the future. Acreage now devoted to some of these crops could well be converted into irrigated pastures.

Johnson says more irrigated pastures will help to increase production of livestock in California to meet the needs of our rapidly expanding population.

Many farmers are turning to irrigated pastures to diversify and balance their farm operations and conserve soil with irrigated pastures.

Graham Nissen, Livermore; Ed Orloff, Pleasanton; Hansen& Giger, Pleasanton; and the Zwissig Brothers of Decoto are a few Alameda County farmers who have planted new irrigated pastures or improved already existing pastures.

$184 TO RED CROSS FROM ALVARADO

With a total of $184 collected, the ladies of Alvarado completed their two months' Red Cross drive this week and turned the sum over to Peter Juhl, township chairman.

Under the leadership of Mrs. Alvina Brune, chairman for Alvarado, the ladies called at each house in the town and made a careful check to see that none was overlooked.

Assisting Mrs. Brune were Mmes. Clara Jacinto, Gladys Best, Eugene Best, Lorraine Silva, Marian Hocking, Martha Saria and Anne Carlson.

NEWARK CHAMBER FIGHTS S.P. OVER CORRAL LOCATION

Aroused over the Southern Pacific's insistence that a livestock unloading corral be located within a stone's throw of the Newark business section and adjacent to the recreation pavilion, the Newark Chamber of Commerce served notice on the railroad, the county planning commission, and the board of supervisors that it will fight this encroachment to a finish.

Decision to obtain satisfaction in the controversy came at Tuesday evening's meeting of the Chamber, at the Youth Center building, following a report by several members who had spent much of the day in Oakland at a hearing of the planning commission. Their reception was summed up by Jack MacGregor, principal of the grammar school, and one of the spokesmen for Newark's interests in Oakland.

INDIFFERENCE SEEN

Members of the commission who listened first to the railroad's representatives, then to the counter-proposals of the Newark community, appeared both uninformed and far from sympathetic to the town's problems, MacGregor said. Much of the comment came from one member, he noted, whose views were apparently biased toward giving the railroad its demands and dismissing the entire issue as quickly as possible.

The pressure developed at this meeting, however, resulted in the commission agreeing to send a group to Newark on May 2 to see at first hand why the town does not want a health hazard and a nuisance placed in close proximity to residences and business houses.

Newark's objections were given special point when it was emphasized, for the benefit of the commission, that other locations are immediately available and the town will fully cooperate in helping the Southern Pacific obtain one.

SIGNATURE ROUNDUP

Frank X. Veit also discussed the issue, as did President Gordon Cotton. The Chamber's immediate steps will be to acquaint every resident and qualified voter in Newark with all the details of the controversy and to develop pressure through petitions and other means against this threatened violation of Newark zoning. MacGregor will head a special committee to work on petition signatures and other measures.

Another complaint against the Southern Pacific came out at the meeting in connection with a report from Ray Truscott, head of the streets and lights committee, that freight trains are still blocking Newark's traffic for as long as 45 minutes at a time. Residents were advised to take the number of the engine and caboose of each train in question and clear this information with the committee for protests to the railroad. A maximum of five minutes is permitted a standing train at a crossing, but this regulation is evaded, Truscott said, by any slight movement of the train forward or backward while it occupies the crossing area.

YOUNG DANE STUDYING FLOWERS IN NILES

* * * * * * * * *

LIKES OUR GERANIUMS — AND OUR GIRLS

"Flower growing in California is quite different from flower-growing in Denmark."

The above comment was made by a young Dane, Tens Henriksen, who has just recently come to Niles from Denmark to study American horticultural methods as an exchange student in the American-Scandinavian Foundation. The young man will make his study of American greenhouse and nursery methods at the California Nursery for the next two months.

"The palm trees at the nursery here amaze me," said the blond young man. "In Denmark we have climate almost like that of Alaska, so we never see a palm tree unless it is under glass at the botanical gardens in Copenhagen."

A former student at the agricultural college in Copenhagen, young Henriksen studied for a short while at the university in Richmond, Indiana, prior to coming to Niles for his field work.

"The—the, what do you call them here?" he asked laughing, pointing helplessly to some leggy and stringy geraniums outside The Register window. "They grow only in pots in our country. You have to care for them as though they were babies. "And roses—well, we have them only in the middle of June."

The young man was equally lyrical about our calendulas, known more commonly as just pot marigolds. "Why they grow here almost like weeds," he said, obviously impressed. "In Denmark they have to be carefully nurtured."

The Danish people do not go in much for orchid raising, but grow carnations and gardenias extensively for corsages. "When a young man wants to impress a young lady he sends her carnations," said the Dane.

The cost of cut flowers and nursery stock in Denmark, like that of all other goods except automobiles, is much lower than that in the United States. "You can buy a flat of annuals for only 50 cents," said Henriksen, "whereas here in America you pay around $2.50.'

"Other things are different here, too," he added smiling. "Your girls here are much better—better—" he struggled for the correct English word, and finally came up triumphantly with—"conversationalists. They talk better, easier. They look better, too," he added. "Their faces—they look good with that—what you call it?—Oh, yes—make-up. And they dress with such—such style," he concluded.

Will he be glad when it's time for him to return to Denmark? Oh yes, but only so that he can tell his friends and kinfolks about the wonders of America, especially about the palm trees that grow right out in the open!

Students to Vie For Spelling Title Tonight

Several young hearts are beating a little faster today, awaiting the crucial hour tonight when the best speller in Washington Township will be awarded the Township Register's first prize of $15, and his school awarded the golden trophy.

All township schools will be represented tonight, when three contestants from each school will vie for the honors. Second prize will be $5, and $2.50 will go to the third place winner.

The contest will take place at 8 o'clock in the auditorium of Washington High School, with Jack Taylor acting as moderator. Judges will be Vice-principal Warren Gravestock of the high school, Judge E. A. Quaresma, and Judge Allen G. Norris. Publisher L. R. Batman will award the trophy and prizes.

Preceding the contest, several musical selections will be given by some of the township's talented young musicians. Lorraine Brown, Anthony Faria and Vincent Wallace will be among those performing.

The Niles school will be defending its crown tonight, for it was the winner last year. The three young spellers from Niles tonight will be Larry Lamoreux, Shirley Pine and Philip Gerrard.

From Centerville will be Dick Arington, Joyce Castro and Marlene Roche.

Contestants from Alvarado are Ann Wada, Frances Wayland and Melvin Pimentel.

From Decoto are Fidelia Reyna, Kiyoshi Katsumoto and Lydia Gallegos.

Nadine Millard, Ruth Olsen and Roy Iseri will represent Mission San Jose school.

From Newark will be Jackie Martin, Donald Harris and Betty Jean Lewis.

Upholding the honor of the Irvington school will be Paul Thomsen, Ligaya Moga and Jane Robertson.

The remaining schools had not had their semi-finals at press time, so their winners cannot be announced. Suffice it to say, however, that they will be represented by the best spellers in their schools.

All in all, The Township Register Spelling Bee bids fair to be the top school academic contest of the year. It gives parents and friends an opportunity to see for themselves what their youngsters are learning in school.

Any interested person in the township is invited. There is no admission charge.

'LIONS LAFFS' WILL BE A HIT

By IRENE MENDONCA

The second annual "Lions Laffs" show, scheduled for Thursday and Friday, May 6 and 7, at Washington Union High School auditorium, has been in rehearsal for several weeks and promises to be even better than last year's show. The first general rehearsal was held at the Dwight Thornburgs. The show is shaping up fine.

A Swiss act will highlight the show, including dances and yodeling. There will also be a barber shop quartet, general quartet, tap dancing, a square dance, skits and acts galore.

This year, as last, the proceeds will go to help with eye correction in Washington Township.

NEWARK'S WATER SUPPLY ADVANCED

Newark is making satisfactory progress toward an ample water supply, Frank X. Veit told the Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night. The supply will be obtained from Hetch-Hetchy, and will be made available through an 8-inch high-pressure main, or possibly a 10-inch main, he said, after discussions with the board of directors of the Alameda County Water District.

The chamber's meeting, held at the Youth Center building, also heard reports on the controversy with the Southern Pacific on the blocking of traffic and the location of a livestock loading corral, on the negotiations of the bank committee for the establishment of a Newark Branch bank, and other items in a full calendar of business.

BANK INTERESTED

Paul Menetrey, chairman of the bank committee, reported that a well-regarded banking institution is considering the location of a Newark branch.

Donald Dias told of plans to popularize the township's first annual soapbox derby for boys and girls 9 to 15. A model racing car will be placed on view in stores and movie houses at the various towns to stimulate interest. The entry fee for the derby, scheduled for June 19 in Hidden Valley, is $5. Fees will be used for prize awards, the first prize being a $100 savings bond, with $25 additional for the sponsor of the winning car. Three prize trophies will also be awarded.

EYESORE FEARED

The chamber appointed a committee, consisting of Paul Gygax, chairman, Louis Caldeira and Ray Truscott, to look into the telephone company's plans for putting up a building in Newark. It is feared that the company will construct a small block building on the main street, which would lower property values.

The streets and lights committee was authorized to request the P. G. & E. to remove poles from rights-of-way.

Support of township efforts to obtain a hospital was voted.

Jacob Jacobsen received a standing vote of thanks for contributing a coffee urn to the Youth Center.

Paul Heiling of Katharine's Bakery was proposed for membership.

WHEAT ACREAGE FIGURES SOUGHT

The county PMA committee is now undertaking to obtain accuate wheat acreage data for every farm in Alameda County, says Fred F. Lewis, county committee chairman. The purpose of the survey is to have accurate data which may be used as a basis for establishing 1950 farm wheat allotments if it is later determined by the Secretary of Agriculture that they are necessary.

Wheat growers are asked to contact the County PMA office at 170 Castro Street, Hayward.

Mr. Lewis stressed the point that fair and equitable allotments can only be made where the committee has the correct historical data on file.

SALTY TALK GIVEN BEFORE ROTARY CLUB

J. C. Buchen, vice-president of Leslie Salt Co., gave an informative as well as amusing talk before members of the Niles Rotary Club yesterday at the regular meeting. Under Buchen's direction, the Leslie plants have doubled and re-doubled until now they are the largest producers of salt in the West.

Thinking Things Over...

By VIVIAN BATMAN

A township mother was herding a group of youngsters to San Jose for their weekly music lessons. On one of San Jose's main streets one of the group—a little boy about ten—was having difficulty with his hair. He kept combing it back, only to have it fall right back into his eyes again.

Finally, in desperation, he ran quickly over to a mud-puddle, dipped his comb into the muddy water, and triumphantly combed his hair back out of his eyes. Leave it to the ingeniousness of a child to solve the situation!

DON'T BREAK IT!

We've heard of all sorts of chain letters. The one printed below is, however, the screwiest one we've seen yet.

"Dear Sir: This chain letter started in Reno in the hope of bringing relief and happiness to tired businessmen. Unlike most chain letters, it does not cost any money. Simply send a copy of this letter to five (5) equally tired male friends and bundle up your wife and send her to the fellow at the top of the list, putting your name at the bottom of the list.

"When your name reaches the top of the list you will receive 6713 women, all different.

"Have faith. Do not break the chain. One man broke it and got his own wife back."

BEST-LIKED MAN IN NILES

Ted Glassbrook, who died last week, was probably the best-liked man in Niles. In the five years we have been here I have never heard anyone make any derogatory remarks about him.

What was there about him that made everyone like him? In thinking it over, I might say that, first: it was his wonderful good nature. He always had a smile and a jolly greeting for everyone. Second: he always spoke kindly of everyone. Third: he treated everyone as though he were a friend.

Now that he is gone, who will be the best-liked man in Niles?

If you'd like to try to qualify, remember that there is one simple rule to follow—the Golden one!

The largest living thing in the world, The General Sherman tree in Sequoia National Park, once was known as the "Karl Marx Tree."

Couple Reaps Fish Harvest in Salt Ponds

MR. AND MRS. J. B. MAKEMSON of Long Beach who discovered that "there are lots of good (bait) fish in the sea"—or, more correctly, in the salt ponds of Newark.

THESE ARE THE FISH—mud suckers—that bring the Makemsons up to Newark five or six times a year. They figure that their trips are well repaid. —Register Photos

Have you ever wanted to live on Easy Street?

Have you ever dreamed of finding a fortune—right at your own doorstep?

You could have—except that Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Makemson, of Long Beach, beat you to it.

They live on Easy Street (that's right) in Long Beach. And they found a fortune at YOUR door! You could have found it—but did you?

It's the truth.

In the salt ponds of the Leslie Salt Company at Newark there are fish—countless numbers of them—known as mud suckers. These mud suckers are ideal for bait fishing and bring the highest prices from fresh-water bait fishermen.

The reason for this is that the mud sucker is hardy, and lives out of water; can be transported, therefore, over long distances; and is extremely active on the hook. He is the best live bait you can buy. And he, and millions of his relatives, live in the salt ponds at Newark.

Well, the Makemsons make their living at Long Beach by selling bait and tackle. They've trapped mud suckers from Mexico north as far as San Francisco Bay.

It was they who asked permission of Joe Buchen, Leslie vice-president at Newark, to explore the salt ponds for mud suckers. They found them — galore — and made a business arrangement.

And now they're making a small fortune at your very door and living on Easy Street in Long Beach! (We repeat this because we like the way it sounds and because it's an example of ingenuity, perseverance and good business judgment.)

Every once in a while the Makemsons drive up from their home to get the mud suckers. They have a specially equipped truck for the job.

In the evening they put out about 250 traps baited with meat. In the morning they go out and take in the traps. Sometimes they'll get 5,000 mud suckers. Fishermen will pay 10 cents apiece and better for these. Figure it out. Is that a good night's work?

But you've got to know what you're doing—and that's a trade secret. You've got to know how to catch them. How to handle them after you've got them—so that they won't die. And then you've got to know where to sell them.

We know all about these things because the Makemsons, who are mighty nice people, told us—but we can't tell you.

We will say, however, that smart fishermen at Lake Mead on the Colorado River won't use any bait other than the Makemsons mud suckers.

The mud sucker, Mr. Makemson explains, is such a hardy fish because he is a lung fish. In Africa, for example, there is a lung fish that swims in ponds until they dry up. Then he rolls himself up into a mud ball and waits through the summer. When the rains come his mud ball dissolves and he goes swimming around again.

Smart? We'd say this fish is plenty smart.

And so are the Makemsons of Easy Street in Long Beach. Didn't they find a fortune at your door?

KATHARINE OPENS BAKERY IN NEWARK

Paul Heiling, proprietor with Mrs. Heiling of Katharine's Bakery, recently opened in Newark, reports a favorable response to his offering of Danish pastries, fruit-mixed angel cakes, and special breads.

The Heilings, who formerly operated the Stanford Bakery in San Francisco, are featuring two unusual breads at Newark. The first is a high-energy, non-fattening type, made of soy bean and carob pod flour. New developments in baking made it extremely rich in flavor, Heiling says. The second is known as Vita-Meal, and it contains extra vitamins and wheat germ to make up for the deficiencies of ordinary breads.

An invitation to the public to drop in and see the modern spotless surroundings in which these foods are produced is extended by the Heilings.

The 47-ton "Gjoa" in which Captain Raold Amundsen negotiated the Northwest Passage is in San Francisco's Golden Gate Park.

"Fine silver" of the bullion market is 99.99 per cent pure.

HIGH CHATTER

By MARGARET COLE

Sounds like a colmn-writers' convention around Wash. Hi these days, with everyone saying, "What happened?" upon every occasion. Who started it and for what purpose is beyond me.

I do know "what happened" to the Annual staff in their rush to meet the end of April deadline. Bobbie Cotton got appendicitis, that's what! Mrs. Thornburg, concerned as she is over Bobbie's condition, is overwhelmed with relief when she considers that the attack might have occurred while she had Bobbie at the music convention in Sacramento.

In addition to Bobbie, the sick list includes Nonie Beck and Mary Ann McIvor with mumps, of all things.

Duffie, too, went to the convention and covered himself with glory, or something. The leader of the eight hundred voice chorus was possessed of the uncanny ability to put the finger on any one individual who "flatted." Duffie did just that and was politely requested to rise to his feet and sing solo. Embarrassed? Don't be silly! Of course, his mind was on something else and has been ever since. Why else would he be whistling "Nola" night and day? You may bet your boots that if he can possibly arrange it, "Nola" will be the theme of Friday's dance.

Miss Mozzetti and "Teach" Nelson returned from the Physical Education Conference much enthused about the meetings they attended and particularly interested in the dance dmonstrations. "Teach" issues a warning that she is going to try out on us some of the theories of teaching that were discussed.

With April 29, Eighth Grade Day, drawing near, second period gym has taken on all the aspects of "Vodvil" rehearsal. "Couquette," "Frankie and Johnny," "Chinatown," and other acts are practicing in preparation for a show to be presented on that day to the Eighth Graders and the Student Body.

Don't forget that the Annual Boxing Carnival will be held that same evening.

The National Assemblies of Los Angeles are bringing for the third consecutive year, over their western circuit, one of their outstanding attractions, "The Christians," with their new travelogue feature, "Vacation in Northwest Canada." Mr. Christian presents the film in person and accompanies the showing with a vivid description of the scenes as they are shown.

All the faculty and students welcome back Mr. Nicholson who has been quite ill for the past few weeks.

Other good news from the faculty includes the plans of Miss Soto for her wedding in June.

WARM SPRINGS BOY WINS STOCK PRIZE

Jimmy Coelho, Warm Springs 4-H Club member, received a second-place ribbon at the Grand National Junior Livestock Exposition at San Francisco for his choice hereford steer.

Along with the ribbon went $25 which was awarded to the owners of all beef animals that were judged to be in the choice grade.

This year is Jim's fourth in 4-H Club work, according to Harry Bolton, assistant farm advisor. He won prizes at the Alameda County Fair last year with his sheep and a hereford steer. This year he plans to enter more sheep and a hereford heifer that he is raising for a breeding project.

Ice hockey is at least 200 years old.

At the LIBRARY

By ELAINE HOWE

I am so glad to announce to all our library patrons, as well as others who aren't, that we now have a telephone—Niles 4626. If you want to renew a book, request a book, ask a question. verify a date or any odd bit of information, we shall welcome your calls. To the people in the other communities in the township, I especially welcome the opportunity of answering your questions when your own branches are closed.

I hope no one springs Einstein's theory on me, but we shall be glad to try to find the answers to your questions whatever they may be. We have the reference collection of our headquarters in Oakland and the fine State Library to call on for information not in our collection. We will be as useful to the community as you individually will let us be.

Now to books. I've developed a frightful appetite lately which, if pursued, bodes ill for my figure. In the course of looking over a collection of cook books newly arrived, all sorts of dishes have tempted me sorely. For every taste there is a dish, whether of the old South, New England, Italy, China, or name it and I have it.

To refute the slander that New Englanders live on baked beans and boiled dinners, I produce in evidence "The Yankee Cookbook" by Imogene Wolcott. Her chocolate cream pie, lobster stew Casco Bay, and home-made mince meat mince pie will have you drooling as they did me. (Editor's note: bicarbonate of soda is indicated here.)

A cookbook that is also a delightful trip around the world is "Kitchens Near and Far" by Herman Smith—yes, men do write cookbooks. Starting in Indiana, he treks to California, thence to Hawaii, China, Ceylon, up through the Suez to Italy and Spain. Along the way he collects choice recipes and colorful experiences in equal quantity.

More about cookboks next time. This week the telephone was the big news. In the meantime come in and see for yourself.

HEALTH PICTURE IMPROVES FOR WEEK

The number of chickenpox cases in the township's unincorporated areas dropped from 27 to 10 last week, says the report of Dr. James C. Malcolm, health officer.

Mumps, another leading offender, dropped from 21 to 12, and influenza produced no cases at all for the week.

Other cases reported by the health officer were scarlet fever, tuberculosis and measles, 4 each; german measles, 3; gonorrhea, 2; and lobar pneumonia, 1.

4-H CLUB ON TOUR

On Wednesday, April 13, three bus loads of Alameda County 4-H Club members and their leaders went on an industrial tour to San Francisco. The first stop was at the Swift Meat Packing plant, where the boys were shown the workings of the plant. In the meantime the girls went on to Apparel City where they were escorted through various clothing manufacturing plants. Then along the Embarcardero to Fisherman's Wharf and Aquatic Park for lunch. Following lunch they were driven through the San Francisco Presidio and on to the aquarium in Golden Gate Park.

Transportation was furnished by the Pleasanton school buses. The trip was via the San Mateo Bridge and the return by the Oakland Bridge.

Those attending from Warm Springs were Jeanette Gibson, Jeanette Vargas, Rochelle Gold, Alice Gallardo, Mary Espinoza, Maxine Duarte, Patricia Weigle, Genevieve Brennan, Lorraine Coelho, Lucille Wagner, Patricia, Jackie, Jerry and Johnny O'Malia, Billy Coelho, Harry Avila, John and Claude Yeakey, Clyde Marks, James Cosetti, Robert Brazil, Paul Santos and Mrs. Charles O'Malia, girls' clothing project leader.

COT GROWERS SCAN MARKET HORIZONS

Roy Clark of Niles, chairman of the Alameda County Deciduous Fruit Department of the Alameda Farm Bureau, was his county's delegate to the recent meeting of the State Apricot Section at Berkeley.

The program included L. B. Williams of the California Dried Fruit Institute, who spoke on apricot trade promotion; Lyman Lantz of the Aeronautical Commission, on air shipment of fresh apricots; and Dr. S. W. Shear, of the Giannini Foundation, on the outlook for the 1949 season.

QUALITY STRESSED

Prospects for an effective trade promotion, said Williams, depend on steady, professional methods, pursued over a long period, and with these must go a consistent improvement in the quality of fresh and dried apricots, in order to develop greater public demand for them.

The possibilities of shipping fresh apricots by plane were explored by Lantz, who pointed out that the costs would be high and the principal advantage at the outset would come to growers of large, fancy fruit.

Because of the large carryover in canned cots, and a poor beginning in the freezers, said Dr. Shear, the 1949 season will not be one of the best. While the production for the state is down to about 75 per cent of normal, he reported that Alameda County will bring in its usual volume.

FOREIGN BUYING DOWN

A considerable factor in the '49 situation, he remarked, is the collapse of the foreign market for dried cots. Formerly a third of our dried cot production was exported, but Europeans now consider this item a luxury beyond their means. Public consumption at home must be increased, he advised, in order to take up the slack.

The committee appointed Clark to a joint state committee to work out a marketing agreement with cannors, and accepted his recommendation in favor of continuing experiments at the University of California College of Agricuture to develop an apricot cutting machine that will handle orchard ripe fruit. The industry in general was urged to improve the quality of its crops.

GAME SCHEDULED SUNDAY

The Niles Merchants baseball club is scheduled to tilt with the Township Bartenders at Washington Union High School on Sunday, April 24, at 2 p.m.

ELLEN BERG

—Stinhilver Photo

Ellen Berg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Berg of Newark, will be two years old next Monday, April 25. But in her very young life she has already learned to be an adept housekeeper.

Her chubby little legs are on the run constantly with the various household duties which she assigned herself. For one thing, she is a great little flower arranger. Or perhaps we should say flower RE-arranger; for no sooner does her mother get a nice arrangement completed than Ellen proceeds to change the arrangement to suit her own two-year-old taste. The finished arrangement is, of course, absolutely "finished" when Ellen gets through with it.

She also loves to set the table. She does a very nice job of it, too, although she shows a definite partiality to spoons. At each place set she will put five or six spoons, disregarding the knives and forks entirely.

When Ellen isn't busy with her household duties, she likes to read picture books. She likes picture books with plenty of animals. All of the large animals—no matter what they are—are "cows" to Ellen, and all of the small ones are "dogs."

Although Ellen's daddy is a research chemist at Westvaco, so far she has shown no inclination to start mixing chemicals. But just give her time!

BETROTHAL OF LORETTA LEWIS IS ANNOUNCED AT EASTER DINNER IN NILES

A dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis L. Lewis of Riverside Avenue, Niles, on Easter Sunday was the occasion of the announcement of the engagement of their daughter, Loretta, to Mr. Albert J. Rosenga Jr.

The names of the engaged couple were inscribed on a large chocolate Easter Egg, used as the decorative centerpiece for the dining table.

Loretta is a graduate of Washington Union High School and is presently employed at the Kraftile Company, Niles.

The future benedict is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Rosenga Sr. of 542 Parrott Street, San Leandro, and is presently a student at San Jose State College, expecting to graduate in June with an A.B. degree in Aeronautical Engineering. He is affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity, Alpha Eta Rho national aviation fraternity, and Silver Sabres honorary military science society. During the war he served three years with the Army Air Corps.

The young couple are planning a fall wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Bettencourt of Irvington celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Enos on Easter Sunday.

After pictures were taken, the couple, with their five children and their families, had an enjoyable Easter dinner.

They are the parents of Joseph Bettencourt of Niles, Marie Duarte and Anne Miller of Centerville, Evelyn George of Willows, and Beatrice Enos of Irvington.

Later in the afternoon they were surprised by their relatives who walked in to wish them a happy anniversary. Beautiful gifts were received by the couple. Their son and daughters presented them with a treasure chest of dollars.

The centerpiece was a three-tiered cake, and the decorations were in gold motif.

Mr. Bettencourt operates a barber shop in Irvington and they are well known throughout the community, having lived here for the past forty years.

Jeff Voorhees Has Birthday Party

Little Jeff Voorhees, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Voorhees of Centerville, celebrated his second birthday last Tuesday at a birthday party given for him by his mother.

Jeff is a very fortunate young man indeed in having not only his mother prepare for his party, but his father as well. For husky Huskie Coach Voorhees of Washington High, decorates the family birthday cakes! It has become a sort of birthday tradition in the Voorhees family: Mrs. Voorhees bakes the cake, and Mr. Voorhees does the decorating. As far as Jeff himself is concerned, he didn't care who made it or decorated it as long as he could eat it.

A big toy truck, filled with a load of tiny toy trucks, served as the centerpiece for the table as well as providing favors for the little guests who included Libess and Rickey Loze, Bruce MacGregor, Stephen Katzer, Penny Moore, Billy and Mickey Nordvik, Schuyler Van Scoy, Danny and Terry Grimmer, Phil and Roddy Buehler, Donna and Cliff Kruz (of San Jose), and Susan, Kathy and Rosemary Pesterino of Campbell.

Localites Shocked at Damage in South

Mr. and Mrs. Les Duffey have returned to their home in Niles after two weeks spent in southern California at the avocado ranch of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Jones. They were shocked by the terrible damage done to the citrus crops in the south on account of the recent freeze. The avocados, too, were greatly affected, they said. The Jones' ranch, however, fortunately escaped the effects of the freeze, a fact which they are at a loss to account for, inasmuch as it was right in the freeze area.

REHEARSALS CONTINUE

Rehearsals for the two comedies, one in English and one in Portuguests, continue for the ladies of the Alviso School Mothers' Club. Salonica is having a trying time with her calisthenics class and is getting very little help from her dumb assistant, Irma Nutt. The amateur talent of the cast in both plays promises you will forget your cares for the two and one-half hour show.

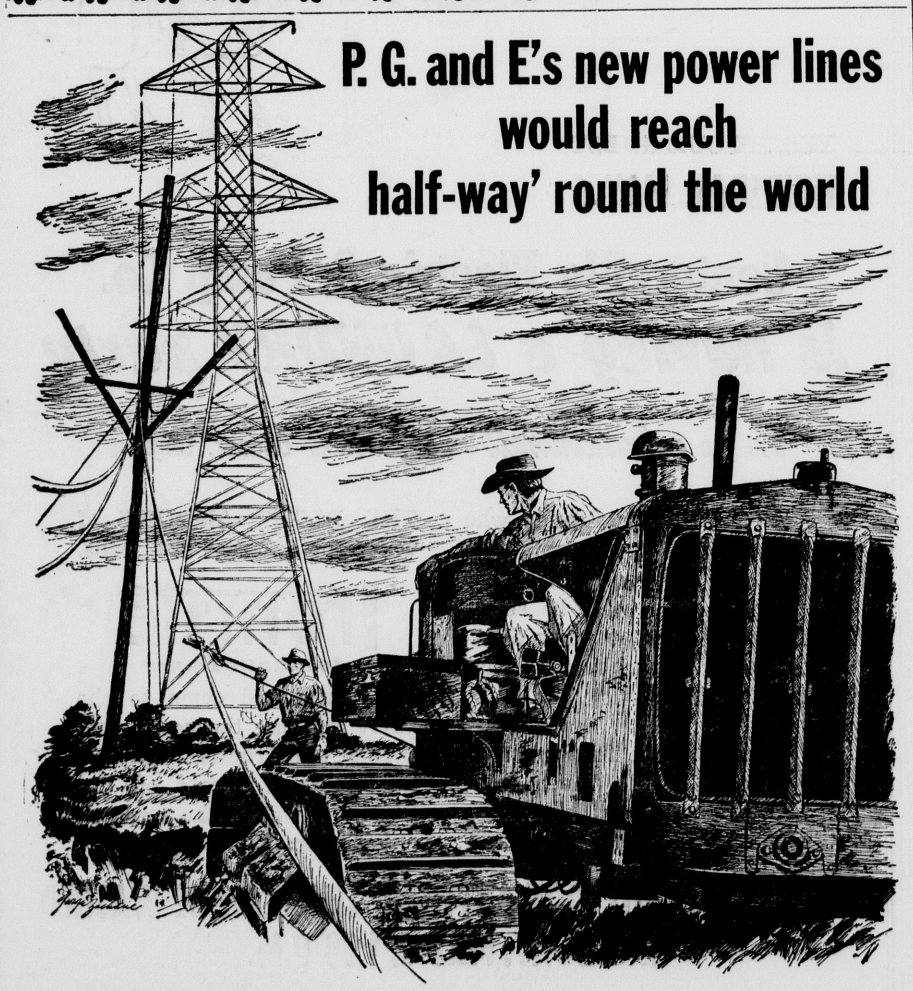
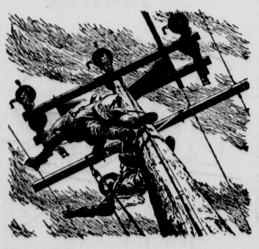
P. G. and E.'s new power lines would reach half-way' round the world



Swinging between towers and poles in Northern and Central California today are some 12,000 miles of new power lines . . . added since war-time building restrictions were lifted. And even more new lines are going up at the rate of 3,000 miles a year. That's three times as fast as prewar construction. All told, more than 50,000 miles of transmission and distribution lines are already on the job in the area we serve—America's largest inter-connected power network.

Helping speed the job are new methods and equipment like this radio telephone. With it an engineer can tell a distant winch operator just how much tension to put on the line as it is hoisted up and strung between towers.



These new lines and half a million new horsepower are serving California's expanding industrial and agricultural activities. Last year alone, more than 71,000 new electric customers were connected to P. G. and E's system.

For the record

P. G. and E. is investing millions in new power-producing facilities.

This post-war expansion program—America's greatest—is about at the half-way mark . . .

. . . and is keeping ahead of Northern California's growing power needs.

Work never stops on our power-building program

BUILDING OPENED FOR SCHOOLS WEEK

Principal Gus Robertson of the Irvington Grammar School announces a departure from the usual program of Public Schools Week, to be observed April 25-30. Instead of special affairs arranged for parents, visitors from other communities, and educators, the school will maintain open house all week to show the public how classes are taught and activities are conducted the year around.

The public is invited to take advantage of this invitation. Rooms from kindergarten through the eighth grade will be open at all times to callers.

Work on the new cafeteria for the school is proceeding at a pace that should make its completion possible in about three weeks, said Robertson. Tonight, at the school, a furnishing party will be held for the benefit of the cafeteria. Admission is a dishtowel or potholder. Games are on the program, with refreshments. The Irvington Parent-Teacher Association is sponsor.

The first and second girl softball teams from Irvington Grammar School won their recent games from Newark. Scores were 28 to 12 for the first team and 20 to 10 for the second. The girls who took part were: (first team) Shirley Amaral, Jane Barav, Jean Tacang, Carlita Von Euw, Patsy McMahon, Betty Andreozzi, Janet Robertson, Rosie Hernandez and La Verne Chitwood; (second team) Annamae Grimmer, Ligaya Moga, Leah Robertson, Barbara Beach, Janni Nall, Frances Wood, Shirley Tutor, Eva Mae Neeley and Diamantina Lomas.

Schools Week visitors to Alvarado Grammar School will see an elaborate Indian village on display, made by third graders under Miss Shirley Pearson's direction. Figures of Indians, their homes, occupations, and wild animal life have been constructed in true-to-fact style.

Also a feature of Schools Week will be the Hawaiian music program to be offered on Friday, April 29, at 1 o'clock, for students and visitors.

Plans are already under way for a fine chicken dinner to be served in the school cafeteria on June 17, the last day of the term. Visiting school officials have been unanimous in praising the high quality and low cost of meals prepared by Mrs. Mary Gastelum and her assistant, Dorothy Vargas.

Alvarado ball players are grateful to the special class under Mrs. Ballenger for making such good bases for the ball diamond. They were sewed of canvas, with sawdust stuffing. Lupe Bueno, Josephine Vallegos, and Shirley Sanchez were among the helpers. The class has just received new cooking equipment for its preparation of meals.

New officers elected by the eighth grade are Ralph R. Zillarerl, president; Antoine Rigmaiden, vice-president; Angie Preciado, secretary; Yoshio Kamiji, treasurer; Elizabeth Lancaster, news reporter; Rodney Hendricks, parliamentarian; Salvador Barrara, sergeant-at-arms; Massy Hiaoka, desk monitor; and Lupe Melena, health clerk.

Fifth and sixth grades under Mrs. Isabel Lucas are in the midst of an essay contest on California history.

HIGH SCHOOL'S BOXING SHOW SLATED APRIL 29

The eighth annual Washington Union High School Boxing Carnival, a topflight event with sports fans from every corner of Southern Alameda County, is scheduled this year for Friday, April 29, at 8 p.m., in the school's gymnasium.

Staged for the benefit of the student body fund, the carnival is not only a fine revenue raiser, but the interest in its boxing events has grown to such a point that two more three-round bouts have been added this year, making a total of twelve.

Admission prices are 74 cents for adults, 35 cents for students, tax included.

The athletic instructors of the high school are laboring to make these fight events the best in its history. Irv Hird, Clyde Voorhees, Jud Taylor and Don Wolfe are in charge. Sam Della Maggiora of San Jose High will referee and choose his assistants.

Each bout will go three rounds of two minutes each. The fighters, their weights, and the order of their appearance are as follows:
